PRODUCT DIRECTIONS

Drink 2 – 4 ounces of ASEA every day. We recommend drinking 2 ounces in the morning and 2 ounces in the evening.

INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

Stressed

For those with issues related to oxidative stress (poor sleep, prematurely gray or thinning hair, thin or wrinkled skin, or challenges with joints), drinking greater amounts after the first week may help.

Sensitive

Those who have sensitive immune systems or are concerned about how their bodies will react may find it helpful to begin with ½ ounce twice a day and gradually build to normal daily amounts.

Athletes

Most athletes consume 4 ounces 30 – 60 minutes before intense exercise, then follow with 2 ounces afterward to aid recovery.

Children

ASEA is safe for children of all ages.

ASEA has not been tested on pregnant or lactating women. ASEA cannot be recommended for such women. You can feel secure drinking ASEA knowing that decades of stringent testing have established its safety.

WHAT TO EXPECT

You can expect your body to go through two phases as you start drinking ASEA.

1 REPLENISHING PHASE, where the body adjusts itself to higher efficiency, eliminates accumulated cell waste, and restores proper function. Consistent consumption is vital during this phase. As the body adjusts, you may experience symptoms of detoxification such as headache or fatigue. If this happens, decrease your intake and build gradually to the recommended daily amount.

2 MAINTENANCE PHASE, where your body continues to optimize proper healthy function and prevent future problems.

This chart will help you recognize the changes that are happening in your body as you take ASEA. Rate each function listed from 1 – 5 (5 being very good) and total the results. Fill out the BEFORE column and track your results each week to see the difference ASEA is making.
